Sierra Madre's Defense Council Rounding Out Details Of Its Work

Committees Report Progress In Their Undertakings—Boy Scouts Enlisted

One of the functions of the Sierra Madre Boy Scouts in the present emergency was revealed Monday night at a meeting of the Defense Council, when committee members learned that Scouts 15 years and over have already enrolled and will be used as emergency messengers.

Taking into consideration the possibility that the local telephone system may be made inoperative, should the city be subjected to air raids, a complete messenger unit will be ready for action. Each air raid warden will be supplied with messengers who will be responsible for all calls for aid reaching headquarters should other means of communication be unavailable. Messengers will also work from other strategic locations with which communication must be kept open.

Further detailing of the functions of each committee was undertaken as the primary objective of the meeting, so that overlapping of the work may be curtailed, and no committee overburdened.

It is indicated that the Red Cross, County Health Department, and the County Department of Public Assistance, will give material help to Thomas Reynolds, chairman of health, welfare and consumer interest, and his committee. Working with Mr. Reynolds, Mrs. Hazel Coney, experienced welfare worker, is now organizing women who will carry on this work in any emergency, either through possible bombing of the city or short time housing of people leaving bombed areas.

William Schwartz, chairman of transportation, housing, works and facilities, stated that trucks and station wagons have been registered for ambulance duty, and requested that Marion Hays be appointed to his committee which will be in charge of demolition, building safety, bomb shelters, maintenance of the power, water and gas supply, clearance of debris, and will assist the fire department in rescue work when necessary.

Bruce McGill, chief air raid warden, suggested that in line with some other cities in the county, the sloyd department of the Sierra Madre grammar school undertake the construction of stretchers.

Edwin Ward's division of human resources and skills, appears to be well in hand, with practically all of the available material now on file.

While much of the work being carried on by the police department is of confidential nature, involving subversive details, sabotage and detention, all of the work is progressing rapidly with most of the organization details already completed.

Retired Firemen Back On Active List

Getting back into the harness may be a trying experience for some people but for retired Sierra Madre Firemen it's another story. "For the duration," M. L. Hays, Alois Karger, Frank Hildebrandt and M. D. Mercer are back on the force, ready to go out on call whenever necessary, and in the meantime glad to be back on the active list.

FOREST SERVICE MEN TO AID FOOTHILL CITIES IN ALL PLANS FOR DEFENSE

With Wm. V. Mendenhall, Angeles Forest Supervisor and defense coordinator for all four Southern California national forests present to conduct the session, 25 key men of the Angeles forest met Monday at the Arcadia warehouse to make plans for the defense and protection of the 600,000-acre forest area.

Instructions for handling incendiary bombs were given by John P. Kaye, chief of information and education for the forest, and a former major in the U. S. Army. Plans were also made to operate pack lines into more inaccessible regions of the forest.

"The forest service in this area sees protection of the vast Angeles watershed as its major function," stated Melvin Barron, assistant supervisor, who also indicated that in addition man power and equipment of this forest area will be available to

Business Of Draft Boards To Be Held As Confidential

Sierra Madre men called up under the selective service act or those who enlist for service with the armed forces, will leave home with no official recognition of their departure, as A. F. Malin, chairman of Local Draft Board 191 at Monrovia, has announced that in the future such information will be considered confidential.

Yesterday Mr. Martin stated that "In order to conform with the National Government policy this office will not release to the Press or any one else, the names of draftees, the number of men called or the day they are to be inducted." Cooperating with this request, the NEWS will not report any of the above information.

Volunteer Officers Ready To Go

Auxiliary Police Force Is Prepared For Any Emergencies Here

Sierra Madre's volunteer police officers are well into their course of special training under the sheriff's office and will be ready for duty here at any time, according to Chief of Police Gordon McMillan. Instruction will continue through the middle of January, but should an emergency arise these men will be deputized to take over regular police duties.

Cars belonging to three regular officers have been equipped as supplementary police cars, which will be manned in an emergency with one regular officer accompanied by a member of the auxiliary police.

Residents who have been added to this branch of civil protection are Silas H. Burnham, Will T. Clement, John B. Cunningham, Fred B. Foote, Benjamin M. Gossweiler, Vinton A. Hoegge, Sidney L. Jewell, Fred J. LaLone, Lea F. McCarty, Irwin H. Roberts, Eddie Robertson, William C. Seymour, Daniel Strite, and Lloyd B. Welch. Judge Thomas W. Neale has also been designated as a special police officer but will serve at police headquarters. All of these men will be equipped with uniform arm bands while on duty.

Drug Stores Will Be First Aid Stations

To make every drug store in California a first aid station is the plan of a joint committee of the State Board of Pharmacy and the American Pharmaceutical Association, as the result of a meeting held recently in Los Angeles. More than 100 of the druggists present volunteered to take a first aid course, and so serve as instructors later to groups of approximately 25 seeking first aid knowledge. After today inspections will be made of all first aid drug store emergency kits, and pharmacists who have complied with the requirements will be privileged to display the Red Cross emblems on their store windows.

aid in any city or county defense work.

Should war-time disasters strike in this area 250 trained men will be on hand for immediate service. In addition to fire fighting crews six rescue squads of six men each have been trained at the Dalton Canyon CCC Camp.

Volunteer truck and transportation operators are being trained at the Arcadia warehouse, which has been designed as official headquarters.

All lookouts in the forest are now coordinated with the air raid warning system of the county, and during blackouts, district rangers and their assistants will be on hand to assist ranchers and cabin owners in the forest.

Another meeting for the review of forest problems and the war-time program will be held at the warehouse in 10 days.

Red Cross Call to Service

The dramatic poster by James Montgomery Flagg is the first war poster of the new World War. It is an appeal for a $50,000,000 American war relief fund to feed, shelter, clothe and give medical aid to American men, women and children bombed by the enemy. It is an appeal for funds to provide comforts for our American Army and Navy, and for welfare work for our troops at home and abroad, and their families on the home front. President Roosevelt asks you to give. Your dollars will serve humanity. Give through your local Red Cross Chapter.

Statement, Red Cross War Campaign Here

The holidays are over. The people of Sierra Madre want to know the status of the campaign fund. Here are the figures: Quota for Sierra Madre $5250 or $1.25 for each man, woman and child. Amount received to Tuesday night was $921.12.

It is evident we have a long way to go. Many have been so busy at Christmas time they have not gone to the bank to make their contributions. Many have not realized that WE ARE AT WAR.

In May 1940 Sierra Madre gave $2400 for FOREIGN war relief. Surely we can double this for our own soldiers and sailors. In November last 1136 members were enrolled. Without doubt every one will want to join in this unexpected task. Those who are able must come forward to make up for children and those unable to give. To the friends who give to the float fund, what about donating that amount, now that we cannot have a float? To one and all who want to do something to help—here is your chance.

The quota seems heavy . . . so it is, but we must get used to carrying heavy burdens. We do not want to make a house to house canvass unless it is necessary. The bank or the Red Cross office will gladly receive your contribution. A thermometer to register progress may be seen at the headquarters, at the bank, or at the post office.

DR. A. O. PRITCHARD, Chairman

County Population Upped By The War Activities

Defense industries have indeed contributed a substantial population increase in Los Angeles county, according to a population estimate just made by the California Taxpayers Association.

During the last 21 months the population has increased by 156,357 persons or 5.6 percent over the 1940 census, it was estimated, bringing the present population of the county to 2,942,000.

Population of the state is calculated at 7,350,000 or an increase of 6.4 percent since 1930. Average per capita assessed value of property in Los Angeles County has been set at $912, and it has been revealed by the Association that state tax collections have more than doubled in the last seven years.

State Guardsmen Given Warm Clothes

Sierra Madreans will no longer need to worry about the in-appropriate apparel of the local state guard, who not long ago went out on guard duty, clad only in light summer uniforms. This week every member of the provisional company received a complete outfit of warm winter clothing, and whenever on duty will be supplied with rain coats, hats and boots.

Most prized holiday gift received by 1st Lt. A. H. Embree of the Sierra Madre provisional company, was a meerschaum pipe presented by the men serving under him.

Start Repaving Of City's Main Stem Within A Week

Paving of West Sierra Madre blvd. from Michillinda to Auburn avenue will probably get underway within a week as the city council on Tuesday evening accepted the bid of the Osborn Co., of Pasadena, and instructed the city engineer to proceed with the work.

The Osborn Co. will place the tack coat and premix wearing surface while the city will lay the seal coat, remove concrete driveway bridges and replace with concrete curbs and aprons. Approximate total cost will be around $5500.

Local Marine Missing At Pearl Harbor

Mother Hears From War Department Following Japan's Raid On Hawaii

"I don't have much hope, but all I have to hold to is the thought that he is safe somewhere," stated Mrs. Earl Scott of 85 West Sierra Madre blvd., this week as she reported to the NEWS that her 18-year-old son has been missing since the bombing of Pearl Harbor, December 7th.

Shortly before Christmas Mrs. Scott received a Christmas greeting from her son, Private Freddie Beaton, mailed November 24, from the Hawaiian Islands. It was followed by a message from the war department reading: "Deeply regret to inform you that your son, Private Freddie Beaton, U. S. Marine Corp, has been reported missing in action while in the performance of his duty in the service of his country. The Major General Commandant appreciates your great anxiety and will furnish you further information promptly when it arrives. To prevent possible aid to our enemies please do not divulge the name of his ship or station."

Young Beaton joined the Marine Corp June 16, going from his home at Chickasha, Oklahoma, to the Marine base at San Diego. There his outstanding ability and attention to duty was rewarded by granting his request for assignment to the sea school, graduation from which made him eligible for duty aboard one of the U. S. aircraft carriers, battleships or cruisers. He went aboard ship October 4, sailing immediately for Pacific duty.

Early in September his family moved here to be near him, but this week left for their home in Chickasha. There they will await further word from the War Department.

Japanese Here Turn In Radios, Cameras

Cooperating with the Federal Government's order that all enemy aliens surrender short wave radio receiving and transmitting sets and all cameras, alien residents of this city deposited more than 20 cameras, and a small number of radios with the police department, Monday. However most of the radio sets were submitted for adjustment, short wave equipment being made inoperative. Chief McMillan stated that many aliens also surrendered arms voluntarily.

Council Accepts Bid For New Well; Begin Work At Once

Giving assurance that there will be no interruption in the city's fine water supply, the council has accepted a bid from the Roscoe Moss Co. of Pasadena to drill a new 20-inch well at the central pumping station, work to begin within approximately two weeks, and be completed in four months.

Drilling and casing of the first 300 feet will cost $4077, while cost of the next 200 feet will be $2254. Testing cost will be $400, placing the total cost at $6731.

POLICE TO CONTROL STREET LIGHTS DURING BLACKOUTS

When this city has another blackout, street lights will be turned off without the delay that marked the first blackout here. The Edison company has announced the installation of a master switch which will be operated by the police department, and has granted the city the right to operate street light circuits during the periods ordered for blackout.

A recent letter from the Edison Co., to the city stated: "It is understood that the City of

Air Raid Warden Service Being Organized Here; Chief Officers Named

City Divided Into 10 Sectors And Every Home Will Get Instructions

Under the civil protection unit of the Sierra Madre Council for Civilian Defense, a complete air raid warden service is being established here with Bruce McGill as chief and Carl Hansen, first assistant.

The city has been divided into ten air raid sectors, to which chief district wardens have been appointed. Each of these men will choose an assistant, and together they will enlist the number of volunteers required in their respective sectors. All air raid wardens will receive training under the county. They will then organize residents in their sectors, visiting every home, giving instruction for combating incendiary bombs, blackout advice and equipment which must be available for emergency use.

In this way every household will be informed of procedure which must be followed in case of blackouts and air raids. Should an air raid occur, wardens will be on duty in their own sectors and will relay to headquarters calls for first aid, demolition squads, ambulances or other equipment.

Designated sectors for Sierra Madre and their respective wardens are as follows:

Sector 12, from Orange Grove avenue to Sierra Madre blvd., and from Lima to Michillinda blvd.; Charles Askew, 23 South Lima street.

Sector 13, from Sierra Madre blvd. to Grand View avenue and from Lima to Michillinda, E. Miner Harkness, 541 West Montecito avenue.

Sector 14, from Grand View to the northern city limits and from Lima to Michillinda; Charles M. Hamilton, 555 West Grand View avenue.

Sector 22, from Orange Grove to Sierra Madre blvd., and from Baldwin to Lima street; Earl D. Topping, 262 Manzanita avenue.

Sector 23, from Sierra Madre blvd. to Grand View avenue, and from Baldwin to Lima street; P. R. Penn, 119 Auburn avenue.

Sector 24, from Grand View avenue to northern city limits, and from Baldwin to Lima street; Ray Matzinger, 790 North Auburn avenue.

Sector 32, from Orange Grove to Sierra Madre blvd., and from the eastern city limits to Baldwin avenue; Charles L. Washburn, 305 East Orange Grove ave.

Sector 33, from Sierra Madre blvd. to Grand View and from the east city limits to Baldwin avenue; Perry Dale Brock, 129 East Sierra Madre blvd.

Sector 34, begins at Canyon avenue and Grand View, proceeding directly north across Sturtevant drive and taking in all of the Cypress court area and Marlborough Terrace; Ford F.S. Blakeman, 117 East Grand View avenue.

Sector 35, from east city limits, approximately 600 feet east of Santa Anita avenue to Brookside lane, taking in all of Sierra Madre Canyon, and from Grand View avenue to the northern city limits; Gordon Felts, 18 Vista Circle drive.

Mr. McGill and Mr. Hansen attended the air raid wardens organization meeting held Wednesday evening at the Muscatel School in Temple City, under the direction of the sheriff's office.

Cut Air Mail Cost On Army, Navy Mail

Word has been received at the local postoffice from Postmaster General Frank C. Walker that air mail may be sent to any of the personnel of the United States armed forces, stationed outside the continent at the lowered rate of six cents for each half ounce. This change in the air mail rate does not apply to civilians stationed outside the United States, or to the territory of Alaska.

Last Day Of Year Brings Near Lowest Temperature

With the exception of early Christmas morning, coldest temperature of 1941 in Sierra Madre was registered on its last day. Following a week of intermittent showers that brought heavy snows in the mountains above the city, the temperature dropped to 33 degrees early Wednesday morning, but rose quickly as daybreak arrived and reached 56 before noon.

The week's rainfall brought the season's total to within less than 2 inches of last season. Recordings at the pumping plant placed precipitation for the year at a 3.03 inches with 1.98 inches falling Monday. Season to date is 8.38 inches as against 10.27 inches at the same time last year.

Recorded temperatures for the week were:

	Max.	Min.
Dec. 25	62	34
Dec. 26	51	40
Dec. 27	53	39
Dec. 28	53	40
Dec. 29	56	47
Dec. 30	58	47
Dec. 31	56	38

Postoffice Wants New Mail Messenger

Postmaster R. O. Caukin announced yesterday that the Sierra Madre mail messenger contract is up for bids, following the resignation of Carl Young, who is now employed by the Douglas Aircraft Corp. Forms and information are available at the post office and sealed bids will be received by the postmaster until January 8.

Duties of the mail messenger are transportation of mail between the post office and the Santa Anita station at Santa Anita, and the local Pacific Electric station. The messenger also acts as special delivery messenger.

City Lets Contract For Its Gasoline

City gasoline contract for 1942 was awarded to the Standard Oil Company at a rate of .0972 a gallon by the City Council Tuesday evening. This is substantially the same net price as that of last year, plus the federal tax. Approximate annual gasoline consumption of the city is 15,000 gallons.

City Will Get $3176 Out Of Gas Tax Fund

Following receipt of a resolution from the Los Angeles County supervisors stating that the city's portion of the annual gas tax allotment in the amount of $3176, would be available upon request, the city council instructed City Clerk Waverly Pratt to ask for payment. This amount will be applied on the cost of resurfacing Sierra Madre blvd., from Michillinda blvd. to Auburn avenue.

Opportunities For Young Men In The Maritime Service

Scores of cadet appointments, throughout the Southland, to the new U. S. Maritime Training School at Port Hueneme for a seven months training course, free of charge, designed to prepare young men, between the ages of 18 and 24, for maritime careers was announced Monday with the official opening of a new enrolling office in downtown Los Angeles.

Young men who are eager to apprentice, with pay, ashore and afloat at the U. S. Maritime's Hueneme training station, 60 miles north of Los Angeles, and have a desire to become future officers in the fast-growing Merchant Marine, are urged to apply in person at Room 730, San Fernando Building, 408 S. Main St., Los Angeles.

Starting pay is $21 per month, $100 worth of uniform clothing, all text-books, subsistence and medical care. Upon graduation, placement will be made immediately aboard one of the new Maritime Commission's vessels with a starting salary of about $100 a month—plus bonus, board and swift promotion into the officer's ranks.

JOHN G. DAILEY AND LOUISE BROUGHTON ARE MARRIED

Miss Dorothy Louise Broughton, daughter of Mrs. Leslie C. Guthrie of Los Angeles, and John Gregory Dailey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mark Dailey of 162 East Alhambra avenue, repeated their wedding vows Sunday morning at St. Rita's Rectory. Rev. Augustin Scanlon officiated at the ceremony. The bride was attended by a corority sister, Miss Leona Wallin of Los Angeles, and Bruce Gordon, also of Los Angeles, served as best man for the groom.

Members of the wedding party and relatives and friends of the couple attended a reception afterward at the home of Mr. and

Mrs. Mark Dailey.

The former Miss Broughton is a member of Alpha Gamma Delta sorority at UCLA, where she received the honor of being elected as the University's homecoming queen last year. Her husband, who is a graduate of Elmhurst Naval Academy, is now connected with Sears Roebuck & Co.

Following a brief honeymoon trip north, Mr. and Mrs. Dailey will be at home to their friends at 2823 Camulos Place, Wyvernwood, Los Angeles.

BUSY HOLIDAY SEASON FOR THE A. J. BARKMANS

Mr. and Mrs. Albert J. Barkman of 40 South Michillinda, and Mrs. Barkman's father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. George Zwissler, are keeping very busy in a social way during the holidays. They entertained Mr. and Mrs. John Henry of Alhambra at dinner Saturday, and on Sunday had as guests Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Linder and Mrs. Alice Owens. Monday they accepted a dinner invitation at the John Henrys and on New Year's day will be guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mueller of Glendale.

GALA XMAS CELEBRATION AT 6T OAKS

Christmas entertainment at 6T Oaks, home of the George A. Dudleys, began Christmas eve when the Dudleys hosted with a buffet supper for a group of friends that included Mr. and Mrs. Albert Williams and Arthur Sherer of Beverly Hills; Ray Larence, Mr. and Mrs. Reimer Fenton, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Russell Smith of Los Angeles; Judge Mackel of San Marino, and Mr. and Mrs. Verge Miller of Pasadena. The Dudleys had as dinner guests Christmas day, Mr. and Mrs. E. Kindon and family, and Mr. and Mrs. Leon Kassah of Beverly Hills.

SANTA CLAUS BRINGS NEWS OF ENGAGEMENT

An original poem written by the hostess and hidden in tiny Santa Claus and Christmas tree nut cups, revealed the engagement of Miss Mary Elizabeth Patterson to John Bush of Pasadena, when Miss Patterson entertained 16 friends at a buffet luncheon Saturday.

The affair was given at the Patterson home, 24 Vista Circle drive. The long buffet table was attractively centered with an arrangement of poinsettias, and the holiday theme also prevailed at small tables.

Miss Patterson is the daughter of Mrs. Eleanor M. Patterson, and is a graduate of Broad-oaks school, class of '41. She is now teaching music and the third grade at the Bassett grammar school, near El Monte.

Mrs. Bush is a graduate of Pasadena Junior College and is now employed at Lockheed Aircraft Corp. The wedding will take place in June.

Friends present to learn of the engagement were Mmes Arthur Bush, Robert Jensen, Don Waters of Pasadena; Henry Gregor, Don Mathews, and Larry Haupt of San Diego, and the Misses Dorothy Mootte, Betty Penn, Jean Weekes, Agnes McAndrew, Mary Sheriff, Bonita Williams, Betty Jane Gutween, Georgia Beth Loater, Betty Bush of Pasadena;

Sue Shelly of Los Angeles, and Viva Strayer of La Verne.

Dessert Bridge To Aid 2 Good Causes

To swell the Red Cross War Relief fund and assist the Duarte Sanitarium, Mrs. J. S. Weber will give a dessert bridge at Temple Beth Israel, Wednesday, January 14, at 1 p.m. Proceeds from the affair will be divided equally between the organizations.

Those attending will find every detail of the affair perfectly arranged, and at the same time will know that they are supporting two major philanthropic causes. Sierra Madre's Red Cross War fund needs the support of everyone, while the Duarte Sanitarium provides the most complete treatment for tuberculosis, for people from all parts of the nation.

The purpose of the guild is to aid in the philanthropic work of the community. Much enthusiasm is being shown for the new project.

At a meeting of the blanket club blankets are being distributed to Mrs. R. T. Thill and Marian Percival.

Bette Davis Plays A Mother Role At Local Theatre

It's a rare young actress who would have the courage to portray the mother of a 17-year old daughter on the screen. But Bette Davis has no hesitancy— which may be one of the basic reasons why she is first in the hearts of the fans.

So far as Bette Davis is concerned, the part comes first, which is her explanation for being enthusiastic about "The Little Foxes," in which she is starring now at the Wistaria Theatre.

Far from a sympathetic role is Bette's in the Lillian Hellman story of a small Southern town and a greedy family. As Regina Giddens, Miss Davis portrays a cruel and grasping woman willing to sacrifice her husband and daughter to acquire wealth.

Others in the case are Herbert Marshall, Richard Carlson and several of the original stage players.

Crown City Dairy Begins Delivery Of Its Products Here

At the request of many citizens of Sierra Madre the Crown City Dairy Co., of Pasadena, began the daily delivery of its milk and a full line of its famed dairy products to homes and stores here yesterday. The concern has been in business for 21 years and was the first dairy company in the West to install the new high temperature, short time method of pasteurizing milk so that it retains the full, fresh flavor of delicious raw milk from its big herd of Jersey cows. A permit for operation of the quick pasteurization method was not applied for until it had been heartily approved by over 300 Federal, State, city and county health officers. The company has 80 employees, none of whom has been associated with it for less than seven and one-half years.

MANY SIERRA MADREANS FEASTED CHRISTMAS DAY

Yule logs burned in the fireplace of the J. C. Dickson home at 169 West Montecito, Christmas day when the family gathered for dinner and an afternoon of visiting. Mrs. Jack Stratton acted as hostess for her grandmother, Mrs. Dickson and prepared dinner for her husband, Jack Stratton, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Leguin and Clifford Leguin of Alhambra.

Mr. and Mrs. E. B. DeGroot of East Orange Grove avenue, were in Riverside Christmas day for dinner with their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. DeGroot, Jr.

Gathered around the festive board at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Trimble of 658 Marlboro on Christmas Day, were Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Trimble of Pasadena, Mrs. Mattie Collett and daughter Myra of Altadena; Edward Lang and twin sons, Chuck and Bud of Hollywood, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lang and son Jack of Kent, Washington.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Colt Jr., of 270 Grove street, were dinner guests in Monrovia, Christmas day, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Johnson.

Mr. and Mrs. George Morgridge were present for a family dinner at the home of Mrs. Hortense Hill of 251 South Baldwin avenue, Christmas day.

Mr. and Mrs. Al Daub of Arcadia; Miss Miranda Olds of Laguna Beach and Mrs. Gilla Bullock were entertained for Christmas dinner by Mrs. C. L. Baird and son Herbert Ingraham of 94 East Laurel.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. McMillen of 44 West Carter, and Mr. and Mrs. Al McMillen were among guests at a Christmas dinner given by Mr. and Mrs. Fred McMannigal of Corona.

The Harry H. Holland family of 199 North Hermosa, shared their Christmas dinner and company with Mrs. Holland's aunt, Mrs. Elmer Ainsworth of Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. Perry E. Kellogg of 425 West Sierra Madre Blvd., were in Redondo Beach on Christmas Day for dinner with Mr. and Mrs. John Trankle. Christmas dinner at the G. K. Simmons' home at 251 West Montecito, was enjoyed by Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Kuns, Mr. and Mrs. Carl W. Ashelman of Imperial Valley; Mrs. Grace Ashelman and daughter Sarah of San Gabriel, and Miss Nettie Albers. Mrs. Clara L. Smith of Los Angeles was a dinner guest Christmas Day of Mrs. E. L. Jackson and family of 55 Auburn.

Mrs. Fannie R. Sea of 198 West Montecito avenue, had her sister, Mrs. Mary Mosher and family with her for Christmas dinner.

Mrs. C. Lauren Maltby, leader of the Awitahan Camp Fire Group, was hostess at a Christmas party, given Wednesday in her home at 374 Grove street, for the members of the group. Decorations and refreshments were done in the Christmas motive and the girls spent the evening playing games.

A POOR PROPHET

Ushering in the new year of 1941 in his best pouter pigeon style, Adolf Hitler addressed the German Army in tones ringing with optimism, "Soldiers, the year 1941 will bring consummation of the greatest victory of our history."

With 1941 now gone, the greatest victory in German history seems nowhere in sight. On the contrary, the dismissal of high-ranking German officers coupled with the fierce counter attacks of the Russian army and the British victories in Libya, ushered out 1941 in a manner which disputes the boast from the Nazi rostrum 12 months ago. The collapse of France in 1940 brought declarations from Germany of a decisive victory in that year. The attack on undated Russia again tempted Nazism into jubilation over the prospect of total victory in continental Europe in 1941.

But history is often reluctant to take orders—even when dictators give them!

The.... Watch Tower

By Perley Poore Hoeshaan

WE'VE been reading one of the latest books about Hawaii. Which the author, Joseph Barber, Jr., prophetically subtitled our "Restless Rampart." O Prophecy! Listen to this: "Japan is out to conquer the world. She has already made a beginning in China and intends eventually to take over the Philippines, French Indo-China, and the Dutch East Indies. Beyond question she has her eye on Hawaii and the West Coast. In short, the United States is in for war with Japan." This book, although so recently published (Bobbs-Merrill Company 1941), gives every evidence of having been carefully prepared, written without haste—in that now remote, deep-buried past, when America at large still thought of Pearl Harbor merely as a sort of adjunct to Waikiki Beach.

LET'S turn the rostrum over again for a moment to Mr. Barber. "When Rear Admiral Joseph K. Taussig," he says, "told the Naval Affairs Committee in April, 1940, that war with Japan is 'inevitable,' and that Japan is now planning a program of world conquest after first crushing the United States," he doubtless had some idea of what he was letting himself in for. Almost unanimously the press termed his remarks absurd, in fact crazy. Representative Hamilton Fish, Jr., of New York, snorted that the Admiral's statement was the most provocative, inflammatory and dangerous testimony of any naval man in our time. And Senator Bennett Champ Clark urged court-martial of the Admiral."

WELL, after all, this is retrospective; and, as Mr. Churchill said after his talk with Senator Wheeler, what concerns us now is not the past but the present and the future. As to the present, the radio and our newspapers tell us fully all that may be told. As to the future, we keep thinking of a certain artist we used to know, a New Yorker, half-Japanese, half-American—and so nearly the perfect blend of these two as to make us forgetful most of the time of his foreign half. Call him Shotaro. He did have a Japanese name—but not quite just that. A name which we'd better not give because, even if it was so long ago when Shotaro went back to Japan, his was a mission that seemed to us even then to be foolish and sordid with ghastly danger.

IT ALL came out one day when we had made some inept allusion to the Japanese doctrine of a national descent from a Sun Goddess—or of how all Japanese were children of the Rising Sun. Shotaro smiled. Then, just as a sort of off-set, he told us that Japan's old word for America was, as a matter of fact, Amemori, a word meaning that which had descended from Heaven. And after this he told us about those five-colored flags which tourists could see in most Japanese temples—the Goshikiso Hata, red, white, yellow, purple (or black), and green, to represent the five scattered races of the world here united under the one Motherhood of that same Sun Goddess, or of "Mother" Japan. So, at least, Japanese people were taught, Shotaro said. But he, Shotaro—mark this!—knew differently. And that's what he went back to Japan to prove.

HE never fully revealed the source of his information, nor the full extent of it. And probably, anyway, we were indifferent. For in those days Japan didn't seem important. But there was, we seem to recall, talk of a vast repository of sacred and occult writings somewhere in Japan, conserved since prehistoric times in the secret hollow of some mountain. And that when the time came for this arcanum to be revealed the whole structure of Japanese history, tradition, and national religion—including the tenet of a god-mikado—would be blown up into so much volcanic dust, and a belch of revolutionary lava to follow. A volcano, all right; coupled with sacred writings would prove, so Shotaro said, was that the five-colored flag, the Goshikiso Hata, wasn't the symbol of Nippon at all, but of Amemori, America—here only where the divided races of the world might again unite in harmony.

WE never heard from Shotaro after he went back to Japan. Nor heard mention of his name—or any slightest hint of that strange tale of his. Secrecy. Silence. But we thought of him again while reading the Hawaii book. Because, for one thing, of what the author said about Hawaii's volcanic origins and how—just as in Japan; "Deep beneath the lovely hills and valleys, they say, run streams of molten magma, constantly seeking release. For years there may be no considerable outpouring of lava; then suddenly..." We always did have a feeling that Shotaro was one of the two—or three—authentic prophets we've ever met.

What They Say ---

Lieut. Com. Edwin H. Walter, Naval Aviation Cadet Selection Board—"No other nation's navy is our first line of defense now. Our Navy is that first line in both oceans—and what a line! And our flying cadets are the best material for the toughest team in this man's world."

Mrs. Frederick Evans, Vallejo, widowed mother of Ensign Evan Evans, killed in action at Pearl Harbor—"I'm awfully, awfully proud that I had a son in the United States Navy. He had a job to do. We was doing what he was supposed to do and I'm proud of him."

Miss Antonia Bell, teacher from London, in San Francisco—"I made myself a dress out of a bedspread. It's the fashion now to be shabby. It's almost like a game—when everybody's playing it, it's not so bad."

Justus Craemer, publisher and member State Rail Road Commission—"Next year under the new tax bill, the per capita tax in this country will be $180. In Great Britain it is $173. Our taxes will amount to about 25 percent of our national income, as against 22 per cent in England."

Archbishop John J. Mitty, San Francisco—"It is our duty to prosecute the war with all the energy and resources at our command; but in so doing, let us remember that even war has its laws of justice and rights and humanity. Vengeance has no place in our moral code."

STATE PROXIES

DAY AFTER CHRISTMAS

'Twas the day after Christmas and gosh what a mess, the house in disorder, the folks in distress; all ate too much turkey and stuffin' and pie, even Towser the dog about ready to die. The presents have vanished, but still on the floor are ribbons and stickers and wrappings galore. The tree in the corner looks just a bit bare, the kids have consumed every candy cane there. The logs in the fireplace no longer burn bright, and gone are the stockings that hung there last night. No carols ring out with their holiday cheer, they're dead as the turkey, 'til Christmas next year. Yes, all of the giving and getting is done but 'twas worth all the effort for one day of fun, and now as each one of us goes on our way let the spirit of Christmas prevail every day.

WAR WILL BRING A CLOSER UNDERSTANDING AMONG PEOPLE OF THIS NATION

By RALPH H. TAYLOR
(Executive Secretary, Agricultural Council of California)

In this chaotic, paradoxical world, good is often born of evil. A husband and wife, long estranged, may be brought together by a family tragedy. A nation, long torn by internal discord, may find new unity—and a new bond of understanding—when attacked by a vengeful enemy.

And if the people of this nation can find a new regard for each other—a new appreciation of their responsibilities as members of the American family—during their common endeavor to protect their homes and country, then, certainly, this war in which we are now engaged shall not be fought in vain.

Out of the horrors of war may come, finally, not only peace between nations, but peace between classes in the United States—a bond of understanding which has been sadly missing in our country during recent years.

In the heat of controversy over strikes and labor excesses, this writer has often spoken out sharply against what we considered a violation of the rights of other members of the community by recalcitrant labor bosses. We have struck out, too, against labor racketeers of the stamp of Willie Bioff. But we hope that we have, and always shall continue to have, just as profound a regard for the rights and liberties of labor as we have for the rights and privileges of any other class of citizens.

With war in the Pacific, war in the Atlantic, and war flaming in nearly every corner of the globe—a war which may determine the course of history for hundreds of years to come—we need to re-examine our domestic problems and our attitude toward them. We need to take a look at the fellow who lives across the street—the man whose son may be fighting shoulder-to-shoulder with our son to preserve our America—and try to see his side of any issue which may concern us. We need to recognize that fundamentally, no matter what our economic or political differences may be—no matter if one of us be a Catholic and the other a Protestant, one a member of labor and the other an employer of labor—we both profess to believe in democracy. If we are good American citizens, we will respect and fight for the other man's freedom as well as our own.

Justice C. J. Robinson of the Supreme Court of the State of Washington, in a recent case, where freedom of speech (on the picket line) came in conflict with another great freedom—the right to work—made this challenging comment:

"I cannot believe that the right to freedom of speech is so absolute, unlimited, and overriding that persons, and associations acting in concert, may not be legally restrained from employing it as an effective instrument to destroy the right of freedom to work. It would seem, when two civil liberties come into direct and irreconcilable conflict, and one of them is more fundamental than the other, that the more fundamental should prevail. That the right of freedom of work is more fundamental than the right of freedom of speech is axiomatic. The generality of mankind has, in all ages, been compelled to work in order to live and engage in the pursuit of happiness. The right to work is, obviously, the most fundamental of human rights because it is only by its exercise that life itself can be maintained."

The formation of an inter-Allied war council, as an outgrowth of the Churchill-Roosevelt conferences in Washington, gives telling proof that one costly lesson of World War I was not learned in vain. Three years of that war elapsed before a supreme command was adopted; less than three weeks after America became a belligerent in World War II, concrete plans for an inter-Allied command have been formed. Today there are four main theatres of war—in the Pacific, the Atlantic, the Middle East, and in Russia. According to the ability of their country to carry the major load, four commanders, under a supreme command of all four areas, would direct operations in each of those theatres of conflict. This means that in the Pacific area the command would be held by an American, directing the operations to be carried out by all the available forces of Australia, Canada, Britain and the United States. In the other areas of conflict there would be similarly appropriate delegation of authority to one command to ensure the total defeat of the Axis.

Such a program of fullfledged cooperation must be maintained not only to win the war, but to maintain the peace after victory is won. Any successful program of cooperation, whether it be between two local service clubs, two states, or two world powers, is bound, at first, to tread on a few toes, to require partial surrender of authority. We, and our allies, must face that fact now.

Because Dame Rumor thrives in war-time, let's sift our information, check its source, and get it straight before passing it on. Careless radio listening has become one of the great sources of rumors. Listeners, giving only a fraction of their attention to a broadcast while working, dining or talking, seize upon half-statements, fail to hear the source of a report, and pass on as gospel truth the allegation of a Japanese press service. Check all reports and rumors with your newspaper. If you don't see it in print, ignore it!

War-ridden Europe may soon be due for an even deadlier blow than that administered by the Nazi hordes. Medical experts, at least, would not be surprised to see an epidemic of the dreaded typhus sweep over that continent with the coming of Spring. Typhus—which has nothing to do with typhoid—is a plague spawned by dirt and spread by lice, rats and men. Unlike typhoid, there is no known cure for it. It spreads when habits of ordinary cleanliness break down among large populations, when routed armies are forced to flee in panic haste through strange cities and towns, when great bodies of civilians, as in Europe today, are uprooted and thrust into new centers of population. Typhus may thus prove to be Hitler's fifth column—against Hitler.

Civilian defense means new problems for industry. Simple, every-day items like flashlight batteries, first-aid kits and warm clothing have become matters of prime importance. Industry is prepared; civilian needs are being met as fast as present physical limitations make possible.

A new hymn is being sung in Berlin these days. Gone is the theme of unquenchable might. "The Germans," says Dr. Goebbels, "are minorities suffering anti-German propaganda." Once again Dr. Goebbels' land prepares to deck itself out in sackcloth and ashes as the innocent victim of aggression.

Cactus fiber is now used in padding upholstery of motor cars.

UNCENSORED

By LEON BAXTER

Most everybody by this time has bruised a shin in a blackout and thereby come to the sudden realization that he's an integral part of the war effort.

Few households in all America remain untouched somehow by the war. Millions of mothers and dads have sent their sons to march in the Army and then signed up for Civilian Defense—to learn the strange technique of roof watching, air raid wardenship, fire fighting, bomb handling and all the other tasks that maniacal modern warfare demands on the home front.

The war casts its reflection over all the land, glinting on every facet of everyday life, concretely and constantly. It cancels football games and raises the price of butter. It blacks us out at dinner time and changes the dates on our social calendar. It changes statistics, too, and does it fast. Here are some which have been changed both interestingly and drastically:

In June, 1939, America had 219,000 troops. On Sunday, December 7—"a date which will live in infamy"—the Army mustered 1,588,000 men, strengthening its fighting force more than seven times.

In June, 1939, America's stock of tanks, planes and guns was pathetically inconsequential—considering the fracas Pate was brewing. Today a javelin force of 4,500 tanks on the ground and 2,500 combat planes in the air coordinate the striking power of the Army.

A year from today the United States will have produced enough tanks to equip 35 armored divisions—a feat, it is pointed out, that took goose-stepping Germany eight years to accomplish.

The Navy personnel, now standing at 360,000, is building rapidly toward 550,000 men. And the Naval air force will double its present 6,000 planes within the coming year.

On the home front, the statistician's chart reveals that rents have gone up from 5 to 16 percent in defense areas and food more than 8 per cent; that defense industries are paying $12 a day to thousands of men who never before earned $12 a week; that tax-paying time will come with a wallop two to three times harder than ever before.

Yes, without ever knitting a sock or sweater, everybody, inescapably, is up to his ears in the war effort.

Christmas Mail Far Ahead Of Last Year

An 11 percent increase in Christmas revenue at the Post Office this year evidences better postal business in practically all departments. Postmaster R. O. Caukin states that patrons mailed early, that local mailing was heavy and that there was an appreciable increase in first class service on Christmas cards.

There were 33 extra pouches of incoming mail, six above last year; 312 incoming parcel post, and 54 incoming sacks of papers, an increase of 56 and 13 respectively.

Outgoing parcel post was 448, a drop of 102 from last year; however, there were 28 extra outgoing pouches and 37 sacks of papers, which indicate an increase in both departments. During the month 75,530 letters have passed through the cancelling machine.

Defense bonds and stamps have sold heavily as Christmas gifts, according to Mr. Caukin.

★ There's a job to be done in 1942. It's the defense of our country—a job that demands the united effort of everyone—man or woman.

★ This bank pledges itself to do its part and calls upon Americans everywhere to unite solidly behind their country in its hour of trial.

We hope the New Year will bring you health and happiness

Bank To Receive Red Cross Funds; Bond Sales Hit A High

Placing itself unreservedly at the disposal of the Red Cross in its effort to raise the new quota of $5,250 assigned to the Sierra Madre chapter, the Sierra Madre Savings Bank displays a large poster in the bank announcing that all its tellers at all of the windows will receive Red Cross contributions and issue duplicate slips, crediting the donations to the contributors.

Sierra Madreans have contributed phenomenally to the urge to buy National Defense bonds and stamps, the bank reports, with the result that on Saturday the quota assigned the bank had been practically exhausted. A telegraphic order for an additional supply brought a large consignment that arrived before the bank opened Monday morning, with buying continuing at an unprecedented pace.

Santa Anita Track May Start Races On January 15

Acting upon the statement of Lt. General John DeWitt of the Fourth Army Command that "if by January 15 or any other date the situation is alleviated, there would be no objection to the opening of Santa Anita race track," full speed ahead was ordered in preparation for the deferred opening of the Los Angeles Turf Club course.

"I am deeply grateful to the General for his message and I believe because of it he is giving consideration to the part racing can play in stimulating public morale, just as it is doing in England," commented Dr. Charles H. Strube, managing director of the track.

Dr. Strube, who responded promptly to the Fourth Army Commander's request for cancellation of the original opening on December 31, stressed that the track will continue to cooperate in every way possible with the military authorities.

A. L. A. Activities

Our regular unit meeting which had been postponed on account of the blackout, met Tuesday at the home of Bertha Irvine for a business meeting, followed by a business meeting. Xmas reports were given by the child welfare chairman and hospital chairman. The unit voted to give the State Guard Company use of our steam table in the Legion dug-out and asked that the two missing steam tables and new white coffee pot be returned. These articles were borrowed and never came back. Will you please search your kitchen.

Grace Caikin gave us an interesting report on Civilian Defense work. Many members of our unit have been helping with this worthwhile job. A social time followed the business meeting with an exchange of Xmas gifts. The rabbit donated by Mrs. Koon was won by Ornelia Stinman. Our next meeting will be held January 8th at the home of Mrs. Imo Koon, 41 West Montecito Avenue at 2 o'clock Ornelia Stinman will be co-hostess.

Mrs. Lotta Hopper, Grace Koch, Ruth Kelleher and Mrs. Kelleher visited Stella Dennis at Duarte on Sunday and found her very cheerful and gaining. Maybelle C. Barker, Press Chmn.

As It Appears To me

It is indeed a great world, and this is a great but somewhat wacky country if one is to judge by what he hears and sees daily. No wonder most of the world can't understand us. Take practically any early morning news broadcast. Official government statements are reported asking all of us to shun hoarding, and go light on the purchase of household articles which demand much metal for production. You have just nodded your head and murmured "O.K." when the sponsors sales talk comes on—and lo, into your ear is poured a deluge of words urging you to get rid of that kitchen monstrosity "the old gas range," or maybe its soap which you should lay away in dozen lots so that you won't run short later—or again, now is the time to stock up on woollens and other items of apparel.

We all know that rationing of commodities and government control of production are definitely not to the liking of Americans, but we're heading right into rationing unless we can resist these punchy warnings to "stock up."

Also on the wacky side here we are at home patently shocked by every new atrocity which occurs out in the Pacific, not seeming to understand that we've got to be prepared for anything... that our Oriental adversary pulls no punches (four years of watchful waiting should have taught us this), and has drained to the very dregs a potent concoction of hate and ambition, which is a combination of all the foulness of Nazism, and Japanese brutality and greediness.

To date I have never observed the Japanese bowing to the restraint of international law... or permitting the ethics of that law to influence their "we'll do as we please" attitude. This seems to be a poor time to expect an about face.

Well Christmas is over and by the time this week's issue of THE NEWS is delivered, 1942 will be with us. There seems to have been almost the normal number of brightly painted small vehicles on the streets after Santa Claus had been around, and from what I can hear, the usual number of "flops" on roller skates. Among the wounded is Dolores Thill, of the merry eyes, who has had to forego a long cherished horseback ride because her contact with a firm sidewalk was far from gentle. Another young woman reports that snow sports at Mt. Wilson are excellent, and still another informant states that the ski lift at Mt. Waterman is now in operation.

So life goes on, very much in the same patterns with a few variations. With many others I believe that the best way to win any war is to keep calm by going about your daily tasks until the opportunity arrives to take up a more direct course of duty. Sometimes it is the ordinary things of life which decide great issues.

—Margaret Eliason.

Racing Folk Hold Homes Here; Beach Dwellers Want In

Uncertainty about if and when the Santa Anita racing season will open has had no perceptible effect on the housing demands being made on Sierra Madre during the winter. All the racing people who have taken homes here are remaining on, with no indication that they propose to leave unless the race meet is definitely called off at the war department's request.

Sierra Madre is considered about the safest community on the Pacific coast in the doubtful event of air raids under present conditions, and many residents of Long Beach and other areas along or near the shore line where big plane and munitions factories are located are seeking quarters here.

Sierra Madrean In The Philippines Not Heard From

Only Sierra Madrean in the Pacific War zone from whom no word has been received as yet, is John Ropp whose last known station was with the Second Observation Squadron, Nichols Field, Rizal, P.I. His last letter home was mailed from Manila on November 14 and at that time he stated that during the previous two months about ten thousand soldiers, including National Guardsmen and draftees, had arrived in the Philippines. Ropp has been out in the Islands since April working as an electrician on government construction.

Sierra Madre State Guardsmen Added To 2nd Battalion

Lieut. Arthur H. Embree's Sierra Madre State Guard company is included in the newly organized 2nd Battalion of the 3rd Regiment, it was announced at Regimental headquarters in Pasadena yesterday.

In command of the new battalion is Maj. Edgar C. Outten, formerly Plans and Training Officer of the 3rd Regiment, with Capt. Mark W. Lillard of El Monte designated as executive officer. Arcadia, Monrovia and El Monte companies round out the outfit.

Whole Family Gives Its Services To The U.S. War Service

Patriotism for A. D. Anthony of 765 Woodland drive, didn't end with service for his country during the Spanish American war when he fought with the 30th volunteer regiment on the island of Luzon, where bitter fighting is now raging.

Today he has two sons serving with U.S. forces and a daughter who is a graduate nurse and has registered for Army duty.

Keith P. Anthony, water tender's mate, stationed with the Navy at Honolulu, and his wife, a registered nurse on duty there, have cabled news of their safety. Machinist Mate Hopper, who when ashore makes his home here with the Anthonys, is also reported safe at Honolulu.

Lee A. Anthony, who has been with the Army Air Corp for the last six years, is now staff sergeant and crew leader on a B-17 4-motored bomber. He expects to be called for duty in the Pacific at any time. For the duration of the emergency his wife and month-old daughter Elsie Pearl will make their home here with his parents.

Doris Anthony, only daughter of the family, has also made all preparations for war service and is now awaiting call.

Lester, youngest son is now employed in airplane production and may be deferred from active military duty.

New County Clerk Takes Office

John Frank Moroney, for 12 years a deputy in the office of the Los Angeles County Counsel, was inaugurated at County Clerk of Los Angeles County at an impressive ceremony Monday, in the court room of Superior in the court room of Superior Court Judge Walter Desmond, who administered the oath of office.

Mr. Moroney succeeds L. E. Lampton, who, on reaching the age of 70, automatically retires after 34 years devoted to the County Service, 22 of it as County Clerk. Among the interested spectators of Mr. Moroney's installation were two of his three daughters and his mother.

As well as being county clerk, Mr. Moroney automatically becomes clerk of the board of supervisors and clerk of the superior court.

Every Railroader Part Of Nation's Military Service

"In the present serious emergency and because of the fact that our military services are so dependent upon expeditious and safe handling of war materials and personnel, every railroad man should consider himself just as much in the military service of this Government as if he were in uniform."

So said W. M. Jeffers, president of the Union Pacific Railroad, in a printed statement which he mailed to every officer and employee of the railroad today. "The situation as it is now rapidly developing is further emphasis of the fact that these railroads and these railroad men are the first line of defense," the statement said.

Bundles From Here Repored Great Help In Britain

A gratifying knowledge that their generous work for the people of Britain is really helping to relieve some of the privations on that beleaguered isle came to women of the local chapter, British War Relief this week.

Writing from Hungershall Park, Tunbridge Wells, Kent, M. L. Thursfield, head of the regional clothing depot, region 12, said, "The wonderful gift of clothing sent by your chapter has been allotted to this part of England. We are very glad to let you know that all arrived in beautiful condition and were most gratefully received."

"The cases were sent to this depot straight from the docks and we unpacked them and distributed the clothing throughout all the neighboring counties. They are sent out in two vans both of which are the gifts of the American Red Cross. The clothing is sent to places to be kept in readiness for people who have lost their homes and everything they possess... children's clothing is distributed among the boys and girls—and babies, who have had to be evacuated to this part of the country."

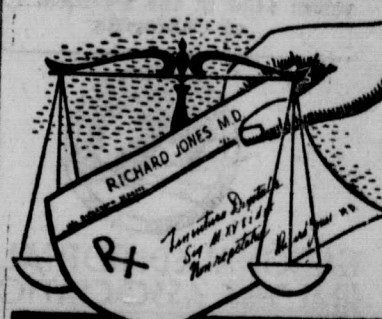

On recommendation of President Roosevelt, work of the British War Relief is continuing throughout the nation. Here women are working as usual at the Woman's clubhouse.

More Big Palm Trees Will Be Trimmed

Further palm tree trimming here was indicated Tuesday evening when the city council referred a letter from M. G. Linder to Marion Hays, street superintendent, with instructions to act. Mr. Linder's letter requested either trimming or removal of palms on the front of his property at 60 S. Michillinda Avenue, as a safeguard against possible fire. He also commented on the appearance of Michillinda Avenue from Orange Grove to Sierra Madre Blvd., and requested the city to remove the debris occasioned by wind storms.

NEW YEAR'S GREETINGS --- 1942

Sierra Madre Kiwanis Club

"You ask, what is our policy? I will say: It is to wage war, by sea, land and air, with all our might and with all the strength that God can give us; to wage war against a monstrous tyranny, never surpassed in the dark, lamentable catalogue of human crime. That is our policy. You ask, What is our aim? I can answer in one word: Victory—victory at all costs, victory in spite of all terror, victory, however long and hard the road may be; for without victory, there is no survival!"—CHURCHILL.

Side Glances and Soliloquies

by Libby Trimble

Though our town grows older and bigger it changes little in a lot of ways in a space of 25 years. Proof lies in the following items taken from the December, 1916, files of the SIERRA MADRE NEWS:

The Eleven-and-One Club entertained with a Christmas party at the home of the Misses Preston last Friday night. Miss Avis Preston acted as Santa Claus to the guests who surrounded the Christmas tree. The party was very pleasantly surprised by the announcement of the engagement of Miss Myrtle Preston and Mr. Rudolph Hartman. Photographs of the two were found in bouquets of sweet peas and asparagus fern, with the single word, "engaged" written upon them.

The Sierra Madre Canyon W. C. T. U. met on Friday, November 24. Interesting reports of the recent campaign for "California Dry" were given. Those who took part in the dry parade in Los Angeles November 4, made those who were not there feel they had missed a great opportunity.

The Cabaret dinner and dance at the Woman's clubhouse on the night of December 15, bids fair to be a great success. The following local artists will entertain during the evening: Mrs. LeVeaux, Mrs. Hawxhurst, Mrs. James Hawks, Mrs. F. P. Baugh, Mrs. Collins, Mrs. F. L. Ramharter and the Misses Elsa and Gladys Kraft, Gretchen Elsner and the Messrs. Howell Smith, Bryon Butler, Herbert Ingraham and a male quartet in which Hall Perry will sing.

A very cleverly planned and well kept secret was disclosed Tuesday night when a happy class of 10 little girls with their teacher, Miss Mohr of the Congregational Sunday school, invited Misses Carson and Gardner to Miss Tarr's home for a jolly surprise. There were Christmas games and a Christmas tree. It being more pleasant to give than to receive, these little maids, who were Muriel Tarr, Katharine Archer, Frances Willard, Linda Schwartz, Norma Simank, Thelma Reed, Florence Evans, Marjorie Bleeker, Mary Benton and Vivian Ramharter, had a gift for each of their teachers.

Harold and Karl Hart are the proud owners of a Saxon roadster which was a Christmas gift from their parents.

Officers of the First National Bank were elected for the coming year at the annual meeting on Tuesday, all being named to succeed themselves. Those elected are: C. S. Krsting, president; C. W. Jones, and C. H. Baker, vice-presidents; F. W. Nuetzel, cashier; N. W. Tarr, director.

Schoolmates Of 40 Years Ago Back In Missouri Meet

There was great hilarity and much talk of past personal experiences Friday evening when a group of 11 people, including Maj. and Mrs. P. B. Linville of 595 Alta Vista drive, sat down to dinner together in Los Angeles. These 11 people, who come from scattered points of the globe, were all students at the same High School in Edina, Mo., 40 years ago and many of them had not seen each other since their graduation.

ARTS GUILD MEETING GOES OVER A WEEK

Because its regular meeting falls on the day after New Year's, the Sierra Madre Arts Guild has postponed the January meeting until the following Friday, January 9. The program will then feature Robert E. Logan, a new resident of Sierra Madre, who is hailed as a master in the fabrication of beautiful glass objects.

A CHRISTMAS BABY

Sierra Madre's Christmas baby for 1941 is tiny Sharlene Carol Mills, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Mills of 290 West Highland avenue. Weighing just a shade over six pounds she was born at 9 o'clock Christmas morning at the Woman's Hospital in Pasadena.

Thai Government To Carry On Against Japs, Letter Says

According to a letter just received in Sierra Madre, one more country at present overrun by Axis, will have to be counted among those captive Nations such as Norway, Holland, Greece, Jugoslavia, and others—now actively ranged on the side of the Democracies. The latest is Thailand (Siam), temporarily held by Japan. The writer of the letter is in intimate contact with the Thai Legation in Washington.

His letter reads in part: "The Minister has decided to carry on independently of the Thai Government in Bangkok, which has been conquered by the Japanese. His Excellency feels that in helping the United States in any way within his power, he will be helping to regain the Thai independence... and will be expressing the real will of the Thai people themselves. As the official representative of his King and of the Thai people, he will carry on the struggle against the invaders. With the cooperation of the United States government, he is now broadcasting daily by short-wave to the Thai population at home, urging it to resist by any means in their power."

The writer adds: "When one realizes what this may mean to his family, and to the families of the legation staff, which has united with him in his efforts, it is a heroically courageous thing to do."

OBITUARIES

NELLIE S. HURLEY

Mrs. Nellie S. Hurley, pioneer resident of California, passed away Tuesday at the age of 84 at her home, 32 Esperanza avenue. Mrs. Hurley was born in Benicia, came to Southern California many years ago and was closely associated with early day social and civic life in Los Angeles. Twelve years ago she came to Sierra Madre, and since that time had lived quietly at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Mary V. Conneally, who survives her.

Mrs. Hurley is also survived by a son, Joseph Hurley, of Los Angeles; a brother, John L. Mitchell, and three grandsons. Rosary service was held at Grant Chapel Friday evening followed by Requiem Mass at St. Rita's Church Saturday morning. Interment was in Calvary Cemetery.

MARQUIS J. NEWELL

Private rites will be held at Grant Chapel for Marquis J. Newell of 546 Sturtevant drive who passed away December 30. Burial will be in Bloomingdale, Mich.

Mr. Newell was born January 11, 1873 at Richland, Mich., and had been a school teacher for 50 years. For 41 years he was a member of the teaching staff at Evanston, Ill., high school from which he recently retired. He was also a member of the University Club. Mr. Newell came to Sierra Madre six weeks ago to spend the winter. He is survived by his widow and three children.

"LITTLE FOXES" NEXT AT THE PLAYHOUSE

Ranked as one among the greatest in American play history, "The Little Foxes" comes to the Pasadena Playhouse January 6 to 17 to tell its gripping story of those dealers in personal greed, the Hubbards. The serene setting of a charming home near the cotton fields in the deep South gives the Hubbards a perfect battlefield and scheming possession is the chief weapon used in combat. Regina, the despotic; Leo, the weak; the arrogant Oscar and the lonely Birdie are but a few of the figures in a game that runs a smashing gauntlet in dramatic excitement. "The Great American Family" closes its special holiday run at Pasadena on Saturday, January 3rd.

SCHOOL EDITOR NOW INSURANCE GIRL

No Holiday For Men Of Forest Service

New Year's day will be no holiday for the U.S. Forest Service, as instruction have come from Washington that the department of agriculture will remain on the job during the first day of the year. "Working on New Year's day is an old story to us," says Pat Harlan, district ranger, "but this is the first time that it has been made official."

WOMAN'S SOCIETY TO HAVE OPEN MEETING

Happy New Year

Once again we extend the heartiest of New Year's greetings from the Southern California Edison Company to all the members of the Edison "family"—customers, stockholders and employees. Let us not allow the shadows of war to darken the traditional spirit of the New Year. Rather, let us all take this occasion to strengthen the ties of good fellowship and neighborliness. Let us reaffirm our faith and determination that our nation shall go forward to its greatest victory. May 1942 bring this victory and the peace that will follow! May 1942 bring happiness to each of you.
